

Nicole Wong (center) was part of coach Joe Wood's girls' cross-country team that took home its third straight NYSAIS Championship two weekend ago at Tibbetts Brook Park.

Kassie Weiner leaves a pair of runners behind during last weekend's New York State High School Championships in Poughkeepsie.

Coach Joe Wood described Senior Kelsey Eagan (dark pants) as the "leader" of his championship cross-country team.

Packer senior George Weiner placed in the top 40 of more than 300 runners during last weekend's New York State High School Cross-Country Championships in Poughkeepsie. Photos by Josh Simons

And they're off. The beginning of the girls' 3.1-mile race during last weekend's New York State High School Championships in Poughkeepsie.

Packer Collegiate Institute's Cross-Country team produced good showings at both the New York State Independent School Championships in Yonkers and last weekend's New York State High School - Federation championships.